DARIAN DEVRIES

HEAD COACH

FIRST YEAR AT IU / EIGHTH YEAR OVERALL

Darian DeVries was named Indiana Men's Basketball's 31st head coach on March 19, 2025. The Aplington, Iowa, native arrived in Bloomington with nearly 25 years of Division I coaching experience, including seven years as a head coach of Drake (2018-24) and West Virginia (2024-25). He advanced to the NCAA Tournament three of his final four seasons with Drake.

In his lone season at West Virginia the Mountaineers improved its previous season's win total by 10 games to an overall record of 19-13 and a 10-10 mark in Big XII games. WVU earned six Quad 1 victories, 13 wins over NET Top 100 programs, and four triumphs over ranked opponents.

West Virginia played the final 24 games of the season without two-time Larry Bird Missouri Valley Conference Player of the Year, Tucker DeVries, who was lost for the season with an injury. The Mountaineers held a record of 6-2 with wins over No. 3 Gonzaga and No. 24 Arizona in the Battle 4 Atlantis at the time of the injury. WVU climbed as high as No. 21 in the Associated Press Top 25 (Week 10).

Under his guidance, senior guard Javon Small became the fourth Mountaineer in program history to be named to the All-Big 12 First Team. The Fort Wayne, Ind., native tied for the league lead with 18.5 points per game, was third in free throw percentage (88.1%), third in assists per game (5.6), fourth in 3-point percentage (35.3%), fourth in 3-point field goals per game (2.5), ninth in assist-to-turnover ratio (+2.1), and 12th in steals per game (1.6).

DeVries posted a record of 150-55 (73.2 winning percentage) at Drake. His final four seasons with the Bulldogs saw the program secure 108 wins (27 wins per season) to pair with three NCAA Tournament trips. He won 70.5% (79-33) of his Missouri Valley Conference games and claimed three MVC titles. He led Drake to six of the program's 11 20-wins in program history before leaving for West Virginia.

He inherited a program that had been to one NCAA Tournament in the previous 47 years, had five 20-win seasons in its 112-year history, and was a combined 40-87 (31.5%) in the six years prior to his arrival. He immediately turned the Missouri Valley Conference program's fortunes around, going 24-10 overall in year one and tying for the Missouri Valley Conference regular season championship. He won 20-plus games in all six seasons in Des Moines, including 25-plus victories in each of his final four seasons with the Bulldogs.

In 2023-24, DeVries led Drake to a 28-7 record, capping the season with a MVC Tournament title and the Bulldogs' third NCAA Tournament appearance in the last four years. Drake's 28 victories were its most since recording 28 in 2008.

DeVries, a two-time MVC Coach of the Year (2019 and 2021), was a finalist for the 2023-24 Hugh Durham National Coach of the Year Award, given annually to the top mid-major head coach in college basketball.

He led the Bulldogs back to the NCAA Tournament in 2022-23 and finished with a 27-8 record. Drake captured the 2023 MVC Tournament title for the first time under DeVries.

In his third year, DeVries led Drake to an 18-0 start and an AP Top 25 appearance. Despite losing two of his top players to injury, he led Drake to its first NCAA Tournament bid in 13 years, and its first NCAA Tournament win in 50 years over Wichita State. He was named MVC Coach of the Year for the second time in three years. Drake finished the season with a 26-5 record.

DeVries made history in his second season at Drake, becoming the first coach to lead an eight seed to a win over the top seed in the MVC Tournament, downing Northern Iowa, 77-56. The 2020 postseason was canceled after the UNI victory due to COVID-19. His Bulldogs won 20 games, marking the first time since 1971 the program had won 20-or-more games in consecutive seasons.

In his first season as head coach at Drake, DeVries led the Bulldogs to a 24-10 record after inheriting a team with the second-fewest returning letterwinners in the nation. He led the Bulldogs to their first regular season MVC title since 2008 and the program's 12th all-time postseason appearance, despite losing a potential MVC Player of the Year candidate to a season-ending knee injury in the first game of conference play. In his first season as a head coach, he was named MVC Coach of the Year and received the Hugh Durham National Coach of the Year Award.

Prior to Drake, DeVries was an assistant coach at Creighton for 17 years under Greg McDermott and Dana Altman. He joined Creighton as a graduate manager and spent 20 years at Creighton. During his time there, he was part of 19 postseason appearances and 12 NCAA Tournament bids. Creighton was 460-211 overall and 231-129 in conference games during DeVries' tenure at Creighton.

DeVries is a 1998 graduate of Northern Iowa, where he played for coach Eldon Miller and ranks 31st all-time in career scoring with 1,084 points. He was a two-time MVC Scholar-Athlete Team selection and two-time team captain. DeVries led the Panthers in 3-point shooting for three seasons and converted on 44 percent of his attempts as a senior with 3.1 assists per game.

A native of Aplington, Iowa, DeVries attended Aplington-Parkersburg High and was inducted into the Iowa High School Athletic Association (IHSAA) Hall of Fame in 2015.

He is the oldest of five siblings. His brother, Jared, was an All-American on the Iowa football team and played for the Detroit Lions for 12 seasons. Another brother, Dusty, also played football at Iowa, while his youngest brother, Jay, played football at Wartburg College. His sister, Jodi, was an All-MVC Second-Team selection in volleyball at Northern Iowa.

DeVries and his wife, Ashley, have a son, Tucker, and a daughter, Tatum. Tucker recently became the ninth-ever player and first since Doug McDermott to win the Larry Bird MVC Player of the Year trophy in back-to-back seasons while playing at Drake. He was also named an Associated Press All-America Honorable Mention selection in 2023-24.

ROD CLARK

ASSISTANT COACH

FIRST YEAR AT IU / SEVENTH YEAR OVERALL

Rod Clark was named assistant for the Hoosiers on May 29, 2025. He is viewed as one of the rising stars of the coaching profession with half a decade of Division I coaching experience.

BEFORE BLOOMINGTON

Clark, a native of Kansas City, Mo., spent four seasons as an assistant coach at Tennessee under head coach Rick Barnes. The Volunteers went 109-36 in his four seasons and held a mark of 51-21 in SEC play during his tenure. Tennessee appeared in every AP Top 25 poll over his four seasons on staff, including finishing a program-best fifth three times. UT earned wins over 30 AP top 25 programs over the last four seasons, won two SEC Championships, and claimed the 2023 Battle 4 Atlantis title.

Tennessee heard their names called on Selection Sunday each of the four seasons and advanced to the second weekend on three occasions in the NCAA Tournament during his tenure. The Volunteers joined national runner-up Houston as the only programs to earn a top two seed in the NCAA Tournament in both 2024 and 2025. UT advanced to consecutive Elite Eight appearances, the second and third appearances in program history.

He helped coach nine total All-SEC honors, two SEC All-Freshman Team selections, five All-SEC Defensive Team plaudits, and the 2023-24 SEC Defensive Player of the Year. Three Vols, highlight by 2024 Consensus All-American Dalton Knecht, have been selected in the first 40 picks of the NBA Draft since 2022. Statistically, UT ranked inside the top three in adjusted defensive efficiency via KenPom in each season and never allowed more than 68.0 points per contest.

Clark spent the 2020-21 season as an assistant coach at Austin Peay. The Governors posted a winning record and led the Ohio Valley Conference in offensive rebounding while ranking second in rebounding defense, third in turnover margin, and fourth in scoring. Terry Taylor won OVC Player of the Year, finishing the season inside the top 10 of Division I men's hoops in both scoring (eighth, 21.6 ppg) and rebounding (seventh, 11.1 rpg).

Clark's first stop as a collegiate coach came as an assistant coach at the University of Illinois at Chicago in 2019-20. The Flames led the Horizon League in field-goal percentage defense, 3-point defense, and blocks per game. UIC finished the season a run to the 2020 Horizon League Tournament championship game.

From 2017-19, Clark honed his skills in player development, video breakdown, and scouting as the top assistant coach at Sunrise Christian Academy, a national prep basketball powerhouse in Bel Aire, Kan. The 2018-19 squad finished 22-5, earned a year-end No. 10 ranking, and made the program's first-ever appearance at GEICO Nationals. In 2017-18, Sunrise Christian went 24-2 and finished the season ranked second nationally according to USA TODAY and MaxPreps.

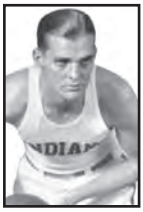
EVERETT DEAN - 1921

Everett Dean was the first Hoosier to earn All-America honors. The 6-0 center averaged 10.7 points as a senior in 1921. With Dean in the lineup, the Hoosiers were 10-7 in 1919, 13-8 in 1920 and 15-6 in 1921. In his final season, Dean scored 21 points against Ohio State, the first IU player to reach 20 points since Dean Barnhart recorded 21 against Rose Poly in 1911. Academics were also high on Dean's list as he won the Big Ten medal of honor for academic and athletic excellence as a senior. In 1924, Dean returned to Indiana, this time as a coach. Over his 14-year coaching stint, Dean was 162-93 overall and 96-72 in Big Ten play.



JIM STRICKLAND - 1929

During the first eight games of his sophomore season in 1928, Jim Strickland scored only 15 points. But after the loss of top player Art Beckner, Strickland scored 19 points in his first start as IU destroyed Kentucky, 48-29. He went on to net 16 points in the Hoosiers 40-37 victory over Purdue and led IU to a share of the Big Ten title. One year later, Strickland became Indiana's second All-American. He tallied 120 points in 1929, including a game-high 20 in the Hoosiers' 37-36 overtime win over Minnesota.

Scoring 25 points in the first half, Rayl recorded 48 points after leading a comeback from 11 points down with 10 minutes left to force overtime. His 20-foot shot with two seconds left in overtime gave IU the victory and lifted him to a Big Ten-record 56 points. He accomplished the feat once more, this time in regulation, during an IU rout of Michigan State. Rayl put up 48 shots, hit 23 field goals, and scored 56 points. All marks are still IU records. Throughout his junior and senior years, Rayl had a 43-game string of double-digit performances. Rayl was a two-time All-Big Ten team member.

TOM VAN ARSDALE - 1965

The only player who could have challenged Dick Van Arsdale as Indiana's top player through 1962-65 was his brother and identical twin Tom Van Arsdale. The two had almost identical stats throughout their three years and put in numerous identical performances. Tom finished his career with 1,252 points, just 12 more than his brother. Tom grabbed 723 career boards and led Indiana in scoring and rebounding during his sophomore and senior seasons. Both brothers had career scoring highs in the same game with Tom netting 34 points against Notre Dame as a junior. He received co-MVP with his brother in their final two seasons and was a member of the gold medal World University Games team. As was Dick, Tom was also an Academic All-American and played 12 seasons in the NBA, retiring with his brother from the Phoenix Suns after the 1976-77 season.

GEORGE MCGINNIS - 1971

In only one season with the Hoosiers, George McGinnis did what most college basketball players only dream about. Taking Indiana to a 17-7 record, the sophomore forward led the Big Ten in both scoring (29.9) and rebounding (14.9). He is one of just five players to do that in more than 40 years of conference records. His scoring average was also an IU record. McGinnis scored 20 or more points in 21 of his 24 college games, including an Indiana record 14 times in a row. He scored over 30 points on 12 different occasions, a Hoosier single-season record. The 1971 All-American went on to become a three-time NBA All-Star.

Overcoming a knee injury, Downing led the Hoosiers to a Big Ten title in his final season, averaging 21.8 points in non-conference play and 14.7 during the Big Ten season. He averaged 24 points per game in the Hoosiers' last eight conference games. The conference champions were led by Downing in the quest for the NCAA title but fell short, losing 70-59 to UCLA in the Final Four. Downing was named All-Final Four, Big Ten MVP, and chosen as the Boston Celtics' No. 1 draft pick. He won an NBA Championship with the Celtics in 1974.

QUINN BUCKNER - 1975, 1976

One would think a perfect 18-0 conference record is something that only comes along once in a lifetime. Quinn Buckner and members of the Hoosier Basketball team from 1974-76 proved that history can repeat itself. Buckner's four-year career at Indiana featured four consecutive Big Ten Championships, two undefeated conference seasons, one unbeaten regular season, and an NCAA title. IU's captain as a junior and senior, Buckner was considered one of the greatest leaders the Hoosier backcourt has ever seen. Upon finishing his college career, Buckner helped lead the 1976 U.S. Olympic team to an 8-0 record and a gold medal. He went on to play 10 NBA seasons and in 1984 with the Boston Celtics, joined Jerry Lucas as the only players ever to be on championship teams in high school, college, the Olympics, and the NBA. Only Magic Johnson has since completed that feat.

SCOTT MAY - 1975, 1976

Scott May was another member of the Indiana dream team of 1976. An undefeated season, four Big Ten Championship rings, and an NCAA title are just a few of the accomplishments under May's name. As a junior, the All-American helped lead Indiana to a perfect 18-0 conference record, only to break his arm in the final game of the regular season. Without May, the Hoosiers' tournament title dreams ended with a 92-90 Mideast Regional championship loss to Kentucky. May returned for his final season in perfect condition and proved it by helping IU to its one and only unbeaten season. The 1976 Player of the Year was the Hoosiers' leading scorer on Bob Knight's first national championship team. May also contributed to the gold medal U.S. Olympic team following his senior season. He averaged 14.2 points for the Chicago Bulls, making the NBA All-Rookie team. His NBA career spanned seven seasons.

KENT BENSON - 1975, 1976, 1977

Nicknamed Big Red for his recognizable red hair, Kent Benson was part of one of the most amazing periods of Indiana Basketball. After an average 1973-74 season, the Hoosiers took the world by storm in 1974-75, posting a perfect 29-0 regular season record. After teammate Scott May broke his arm, Benson did his part against Kentucky to try to keep the NCAA Tournament dream alive. Benson netted 33 points and grabbed 23 boards but IU fell 92-90 and Benson would have to look forward to his junior season. Benson was named All-Big Ten as a sophomore and his list of honors is endless. During the 1976 championship run, Benson racked up 25 points in the final game at the Final Four and received the Most Outstanding Player Award. The dream would come true as Indiana dominated Michigan for the tournament crown. After a final year at IU, Benson was the first player taken in the NBA draft. He played eight NBA seasons for Milwaukee, Detroit, Utah and Cleveland.

Mike Woodson became Indiana's 11th All-American in five seasons. He averaged 21.0 points during his junior season and helped lead Indiana to an NIT Championship. Woodson captained the USA's Pan American Games team to a gold medal during the summer prior to his senior year and was all set to have a perfect season with the Hoosiers. After five games and a No. 1 ranking, Woodson suffered a herniated disc in his back and had to undergo surgery. Upon losing Woodson, the Hoosiers went 7-5 in the Big Ten until he returned to spark Indiana back into action. IU finished the conference season with six straight victories and won the Big Ten title. Woodson was the MVP after playing in only six league games that season. Following his senior year, Woodson went on to an 11-year, 10,981-point NBA career with New York, New Jersey, Kansas City, Sacramento, the Los Angeles Clippers, and Houston.

ISIAH THOMAS - 1981

The only thing disappointing about Isiah Thomas' IU career is the fact that he only played two years in a Hoosier uniform before turning pro. Before even playing a game at Indiana, Thomas played on Bob Knight's gold-medal Pan-American Games team in San Juan. Thomas helped lead the U.S. team to a 113-94 victory over Puerto Rico in the championship battle. At IU, Thomas started every game he played. He was a member and leader of two Indiana teams that won Big Ten Championships. During his second and final season at IU, Thomas led the Hoosiers in scoring and set a single-season school record for assists with 197. In the 1981 championship game, Thomas led all scorers with 23 points and was honored as the Outstanding Player. Several weeks later, he announced he was headed for the NBA. A No. 2 draft pick, Thomas was an instant success in the NBA. He received Rookie of the Year honors and was a starting All-Star from his first year on. He led the Detroit Pistons to two NBA Championships and his No. 11 was retired by the Pistons.

LANDON TURNER - 1982

The courage and strength shown by Landon Turner can be matched by few athletes around the country. Turner had an up and down basketball career during his first two years at Indiana. During his junior season in 1981, Knight gave Turner one last chance to prove he could contribute. Turner responded with a 4-of-5 performance against Northwestern, which boosted an already powerful line-up. Turner went on to reach double figures in nine of his last 11 games. The Hoosiers won their last five regular season games and earned their second straight Big Ten crown. Turner was on the rise heading into his senior season when disaster struck. On his way to Kings Island in Cincinnati, Ohio, Turner lost control of his vehicle and crashed in an accident that left him paralyzed from the chest down. Turner eventually graduated from Indiana in 1984 and went on to play wheelchair basketball. He was named an honorary All-American by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and received the Most Courageous Athlete award in 1989.

TED KITCHEL - 1982, 1983

By his sophomore year, Ted Kitchel already had two Big Ten titles and had an NCAA Championship ring on his finger. He also set a conference record that still stands today when he hit all 18 of his free throw attempts in an Indiana victory over Illinois. Kitchel was a starter on an all-senior lineup that began the 1982-83 season 10-0 and gained a No. 1 ranking. On a weekend trip to Michigan late in the league season, Kitchel sank a three-pointer and fell to the floor. An early back problem had returned and his season was over. Despite the injury, Kitchel averaged 17.3 points and was one of the league's top scorers.

RANDY WITTMAN - 1983

Randy Wittman and Ted Kitchel experienced similar careers at Indiana. Five-year roommates, injury caused redshirt seasons for both individuals. Wittman gathered up his conference championships and NCAA title by his sophomore season. He and Kitchel were major contributors throughout their careers. After Kitchel suffered an injury late in the Big Ten 1982-83 season, Wittman and the Hoosiers were in a tie for the conference lead with three games remaining. Wittman took Indiana under his wing, helping the Hoosiers rout Purdue, Illinois, and Ohio State for yet another Big Ten Championship. Wittman shot .543 on the season and averaged a team-leading 18.9 points. He was IU's third Big Ten MVP in four years. In his IU career, Wittman played an IU-record 4,699 minutes, including the full 40 minutes 45 times. He went on to a productive nine-year NBA career and sepnt many seasons as an NBA coach.

STEVE ALFORD - 1986, 1987

Steve Alford may have been born dribbling a basketball. Alford was not only a talented athlete, but he had the work ethic and determination to bring out the most of his abilities. An Indiana Mr. Basketball as a high school senior, Alford averaged 37 points a game and never scored less than 20 points in a game his final two seasons. As a freshman at Indiana, Alford led the nation in free throw shooting with a 91.3 percentage and led the Hoosiers with 15.5 points a game. After just missing a Final Four appearance that year, Alford and the Hoosiers had a slow season his sophomore year. He still managed to make history, draining 58 of 62 free throws during the Big Ten season. He also averaged a team-high 18.1 points. Alford continued to improve as a junior as he averaged 22.5 points and brought his team to a 21-8 record. The team was shocked in an NCAA Tournament opening round loss but would return for Alford's senior season with a vigor never seen before. In the first season of college basketball's three-point shot, Alford hit seven treys on two different occassions. He set an NCAA record with his seven baskets from beyond the arc in the championship game, a victory over Syracuse that would secure a fifth national title for the Hoosiers. Alford was the Big Ten MVP in 1987 and went on to a brief NBA career.

JAY EDWARDS - 1989

Jay Edwards made his debut appearance in a Hoosier jersey under the fan pressure to see a repeat NCAA Championship performance in 1988. Although Indiana did not obtain back-to-back titles, Edwards gave the Hoosier faithful a sight to see. The Big Ten Freshman of the Year had an NCAA freshman record .536 three-point percentage. He broke Alford's conference record of seven threes in a game. As a sophomore, Edwards led Indiana to a Big Ten title with last second shots to knock off Purdue and Michigan. With an average of 20 points a game and All-America achievement, Edwards gave up his final two years of eligibility to enter the draft and was a second-round pick of the Los Angeles Clippers.

CALBERT CHEANEY - 1991, 1992, 1993

Calbert Cheaney was Bob Knight's first-ever left-handed player and a good choice he was. Cheaney is the only Indiana freshman to start the season opener and score 20 points. Cheaney kept the Hoosiers a national power during all four of his years at Indiana. As a freshman he led the team in scoring with a 17.1 average. Over his final three seasons, Indiana spent all but two of 53 poll weeks in the Top 10 and 38 in the top five. The Hoosiers were 87-16 during those years. In his second season, Cheaney set a school-record with a .596 shooting percentage and an average of 21.6 points per game. Cheaney took on captainship of the team following that year. Indiana was unable to come up with a championship but outscored opponents by 17.6 points to lead the nation. Cheaney led the team to a Final Four appearance as a junior. On his way, he gained control of the all-time Big Ten men's scoring record with his career total of 2,613 points, a record that still stands. Cheaney was named the National Player of the Year (Wooden Award), a unanimous All-American, Big Ten MVP, and was taken No. 6 in the NBA draft by Washington.

Damon Bailey could have never donned the Hoosier warmups and still been considered an Indiana legend. Bailey was featured in Sports Illustrated before ever playing a high school game. He led teams to three national AAU championships and Bedford North Lawrence High School to the state's Final Four three out of four years. As a senior, a national record crowd of 41,046 watched Bailey and his teammates top Concord for the state championship. He was named USA Today's High School Player of the Decade. At Indiana, Bailey played in 108 victories including an IU-record 11 NCAA tournament victories. Bailey's career as a Hoosier ended in the third round of NCAA Tournament play his senior year. He averaged 19.6 points per game that season and finished No. 5 on IU's career points list with 1,741. He was All-Big Ten and a third team All-American.

ALAN HENDERSON - 1995

During Henderson's sophomore season, the Hoosiers were ranked No. 1 for almost the entire season, but their championship hopes took a turn for the worse when Henderson tore a ligament in his knee in February. Indiana managed a Big Ten Championship but Kansas was victorious in the regional final of the NCAA Tournament. Henderson came back strong as a junior, building up to a 41-point performance against Michigan State at the end of the season. Indiana reached the Sweet 16 for the fourth-straight season but could not advance further. As a senior, Henderson scored 20 or more points on 24 occasions and recorded 49 double-doubles in his four years. He set IU's career rebounding record with 1,091, topping a record set 34 years before. Henderson was the Atlanta Hawks' first round draft pick, eventually becoming a starter and outstanding player for the Hawks.

He earned honorable mention All-Big Ten the following year, playing a key role in the Hoosiers' NCAA victories. He averaged 14.0 points per game and 9.0 rebounds during tournament action. As a junior, Evans was a third-team All-Big Ten selection and headed to his senior season with great potential. He led the Hoosiers to a 19-12 record, including an NCAA Tournament appearance. Evans averaged 21.2 points and 7.1 rebounds in his final season, earning him the Big Ten MVP and the conference Silver Basketball Award. He was named first team All-Big Ten and a third team All-American. His list of accomplishments culminated at Indiana with the IU Male Athlete of the Year and Balfour Award as he headed to the NBA's Orlando Magic.

KIRK HASTON - 2001

Kirk Haston carried the Hoosiers in Mike Davis' first season as head coach, scoring 19 points and pulling down 8.7 rebounds per game. He led the Big Ten in conference scoring and ranked second in rebounding. He had one of the greatest seasons by a Hoosier and the NBA took notice, as Haston chose to forgo his senior season and enter the NBA Draft where he was a first-round selection (16th) of the Charlotte Hornets. Haston's game came to life in 2000-2001, as he discovered the three-point shot. No 3-pointer was bigger than the one he hit at the buzzer to beat No. 1 Michigan State, the first time Indiana had posted a victory over a top-ranked team in Assembly Hall. Haston concluded his career ranked 17th in school history with 1,406 points scored and finished ninth in career rebounds with 748. He earned All-Big Ten first team honors as a junior and second team honors as a sophomore.

From being the first All-American basketball player at Indiana University to receiving the Big Ten medal for academic and athletic excellence, Everett Dean was the choice to lead the Hoosiers through the Roaring 20s. Dean led the Hoosiers to their first-ever Big Ten Conference co-championship which they clinched in a 15-point victory over Wisconsin to end the 1926 season. He led the squad to two more Big Ten titles and had an impressive overall career record of 162-93 with a Big Ten mark of 96-72 which was by far the most successful coaching career in Indiana basketball history at the time. Dean's era officially kicked off the tradition of Hoosier basketball at Indiana University that continues today. Dean was inducted into the Indiana University Athletic Hall of Fame in 1982.

364-174 (.677), 210-116 (.644)
While Dean's era dug the foundation for college basketball at Indiana, Branch McCracken's two stints as Indiana University Head Basketball Coach were the concrete needed to solidify that foundation. McCracken spent 24 years at the helm of the "Hurryin' Hoosiers" and brought two National Championships, four Big Ten Championships and IU's first four 20-win seasons to Bloomington. The first national title came in 1940 when the Hoosiers finished 20-3 overall and 9-3 in the Big Ten. NCAA Championship number two came in the 1952-53 season when the squad racked up a then-school-record 23 wins to only three losses, an unprecedented 17-1 Big Ten record and IU's first number 1 national ranking and first outright Big Ten Championship. McCracken led the squad to a 364-174 overall record and a 210-116 Big Ten record. His 450 career wins places him 76th on the NCAA's all-time victories list and 86th on the all-time winningest coaches list. McCracken served as a lieutenant in the U.S. Army in World War II from 1944-46. The legendary coach was elected to the Indiana University Athletic Hall of Fame in 1982.

HARRY C. GOOD - 1944-46
35-29 (.547), 14-22 (.389)
Harry C. Good coached the Hoosiers for three seasons from 1944-1946 while Branch McCracken served as a lieutenant in the U.S. Army. He led Indiana to a 35-29 overall mark and a Big Ten Conference mark of 14-22.

LOU WATSON - 1966-71
62-60 (.508), 31-39 (.443)
Lou Watson spent six seasons with the Hoosiers. From 1966-1971 he coached the Hoosiers to a 62-60 overall record and a 31-39 Big Ten Conference mark. Watson, in 1970, coached an IU legend who only spent one season as a Hoosier. George McGinnis led the Big Ten in scoring (29.9 ppg) and rebounding (14.5 rpg). His 29.9 points per game average is still the highest single-season average in the history of Indiana basketball.

JERRY OLIVER - 1970
7-17 (.292), 3-11 (.214)
Jerry Oliver spent one season as the acting head coach of Indiana basketball. He was named acting head coach after head coach Lou Watson had surgery to remove cancer from his back. Oliver led the Hoosiers to a 7-17 overall mark including a 3-11 record in the Big Ten Conference.

BOB KNIGHT - 1972-2000
662-239 (.735), 353-151 (.700)
From the plaid jacket to the famed red sweater the name Bob Knight became synonymous with Indiana University basketball and in his 29 seasons no one could deny him that distinction. "The General" led the Hoosiers to three national championships, 11 Big Ten championships and one National Invitation Tournament title. The greatest accomplishment in the Bob Knight era was the 1975-76 National Championship run where the Hoosiers began the year as the Associated Press' preseason number one team and carried that ranking all the way through the season to Knight's first and the school's third NCAA Championship. That squad was also the last team to finish the season perfect with a 32-0 overall record and an 18-0 Big Ten mark. Knight's second title came during the 1980-81 season when Isiah Thomas led the squad to the NCAA title over the North Carolina Tar Heels. The squad's final championship of the Knight era came in the 1986-87 season when Keith Smart hit the game-winning shot to defeat Syracuse in the national title game. Knight's career saw numerous achievements by both the coach himself and his players. He was awarded with National Coach-of-the-Year honors on four occasions in 1975, 76, 87 and 1989. He ranks sixth on the all-time coaches list for victories and is the 30th winningest coach of all-time. Under Knight's leadership, Calbert Cheaney became the all-time leading scorer in Big Ten history. He also coached nine Big Ten MVPs and had a total of 27 All-Americans play in Assembly Hall. Knight had an overall Indiana record of 662-239 and a Big Ten Conference mark of 353-151. He was inducted into the IU Athletic Hall of Fame in 2009.

MIKE DAVIS - 2000-06
115-79 (.592), 55-41 (.573)
Mike Davis served as Indiana head coach from 2000-06, and he compiled a 115-79 overall record and a 55-41 Big Ten Conference ledger. Davis was the first coach in IU history to open his tenure with three straight 20-plus win seasons and three straight NCAA Tournament appearances. Davis directed the Hoosiers to a share of the 2002 Big Ten championship and an appearance in the 2002 national championship game. Davis led IU to postseason appearances five of his six years as head coach (four NCAA and one NIT), and the Hoosiers defeated 22 nationally-ranked opponents in his tenure.

KELVIN SAMPSON - 2006-08
43-15 (.741), 20-9 (.690)
Two-time National Coach of the Year Kelvin Sampson was named the 26th head coach in Indiana University history on March 29, 2006. In his first year at IU, Sampson's squad finished 21-11 and tied a school record by going 15-0 at Assembly Hall. The Hoosiers earned their 34th NCAA Tournament bid, advanced to the second round of the West Regional after defeating Gonzaga, 70-57, in the first round, and were ranked as high as 19th in the country during the regular season. During his second year, the Hoosiers were nationally ranked for the majority of the year and were ranked as high as eighth in the country. However, prior to the start of the season, IU announced that a series of recruiting sanctions and corrective actions were being imposed on Sampson and his staff. When the NCAA annnounced that possible major violations had occured during his tenure, Sampson resigned after leading IU to a 22-4 record.

GOING GLOBAL

Indiana University's Basketball program has been well represented in the U.S. National team's history and in international competition.

Among the most memorable IU connections with international play was the Games of the XXIII Olympiad in Los Angeles during the summer of 1984. Three Hoosiers participated in the games, IU coach Bob Knight as the U.S. head coach, Steve Alford as one of the 12 U.S. players and Uwe Blab on the West German squad.

A large banner of the Olympic rings and U.S.A. stitched into the rings hangs in Assembly Hall as a remembrance of the role Hoosier fans, players and coaches had in the U.S.A. gold medal effort.

Indiana hosted the team selection in April 1984 when 74 candidates worked out daily in the IU Fieldhouse. Over 34,000 turned out over two nights to watch the final trials games. A dinner with over 3,000 attending in the RCA Dome at Indianapolis saluted the U.S. team and helped raise over $131,000 for the U.S. Olympic Committee. More Olympic contributions came when 17,100 watched a June game in Assembly Hall between the U.S. team and a group of former Indiana players.

A highlight of the summer came in July when the RCA Dome had quite a debut for its first sporting event. Exceeding all expectations, 67,596 fans turned out for two exhibition games featuring the U.S. men's and women's Olympic Basketball teams.

The U.S. squad turned aside eight opponents en route to the gold medal with some of the decisions very one-sided thanks to contributions from all 12 U.S. players. Alford and Blab's respective teams met during pool play, and the U.S. won, 78-67. It was the closest margin of victory for the U.S. team.

OLD ASSEMBLY HALL

Indiana University Basketball has in its 100-year existence come full circle. Today, the 17,000 -plus capacity Assembly Hall is a mecca for sporting arenas, just as old Assembly Hall was in its day.

The original Assembly Hall was not a sporting arena, it was a small one-story structure with a wooden frame. The building, located near the Indiana Memorial Union, was built in 1895 and had a price tag of $12,000. When full the building could seat 600 people for a basketball game. It also was the practice site for the team and the gymnasium for physical education classes.

IU's first-ever game was on February 8, 1901 against Butler. The game was described by the Indianapolis News as a "fast" and "hard-fought" game which had Butler on top 20-17. The first game at Assembly Hall came 20 days later against Butler. In another tight game, Butler pulled it out 24-20 and left IU 0-2.

Opponents were rare and basketball was still enduring growing pains, but the 1901 total of two games doubled in 1902 and five games were played in 1903. It was a time when basketball was just taking hold, but when it did, the growth was accompanied by the need for a new building.

The final game at the original Assembly Hall was against Rose Poly on January 5, 1917 and it was the fifth-straight victory for IU and it came in dominating fashion, 35-9.

The building attracted former Presidents William Howard Taft and Teddy Roosevelt and also presidential candidate William Jennings Bryan.

The doors to Assembly Hall, which boasted an overall record of 61-43, officially closed in 1938 when it was demolished, but the tradition carried on and only grew stronger.

MEN'S GYMNASIUM

MEN'S GYMNASIUM

What is now an upstairs recreational gymnasium in the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation building is the Men's Gymnasium. This facility housed the Indiana Hoosiers from 1916-1928 and was brought into existence amid controversy.

With the original Assembly Hall falling into disrepair, students and faculty alike marched for a new gymnasium for the athletes. Alumni and University personnel also lobbied for its abandonment by the athletic program. The people's wishes were granted in 1914 and with a capacity of 2,000 and a cost of $200,000, the Men's Gymnasium's era began in 1916.

The first game at the gymnasium was on Jan. 19, 1917 against Iowa. The Hoosiers pulled out one of the lowest scoring games in history, 12-7.

The building was the home court of consistent teams coached by the likes of Dana M. Evans and Everett Dean. Dean led his squad to the first two Big Ten Championships in the history of IU Basketball as the head coach. He led the final team to play in the building to the program's first unbeaten home season at Men's Gymnasium (11-0).

As a player, Dean called the Men's Gymnasium home and was named as Indiana University's first All-American in 1921 while playing in that facility.

The team's consistent success led to the growth of the fan base supporting the squad. The capacity of 2,000 was no longer sufficient, so the program had to be moved into another facility.

The time had come because the growth was so substantial.

OLD FIELDHOUSE

Indiana's third home, after outgrowing the Men's Gymnasium, was the Old IU Fieldhouse and it was built on East 7th Street with a price tag of $350,000. The dedication game was on December 13, 1928 when IU defeated Eastern Champion Pennsylvania, 34-26. The facility had a portable hardwood floor and a lighting system consisting of 47 electric lamps suspended from the ceiling. Seven floodlights, three above the floor and two pointing directly at the hoops, made it easier for the players to see during the game. It was not one of the luxurious buildings of today, but head coach Everett Dean and the Hoosiers made due with what they were given.

The Old Fieldhouse was where Indiana Head Coach Everett Dean led the Hoosiers into what is now a well-documented tradition. Dean coached the 1936 team to an undefeated home record (9-0) and a share of the Big Ten Conference crown.

The facility saw six perfect seasons including a 24-game unbeaten home winning streak from 1938-1941. It was the home to the "Hurryin' Hoosiers" under head coach Branch McCracken. It was also the home to McCracken as a player where in 1930, he was named an All-American.

The fieldhouse was the home court for the 1940 NCAA National Champions and it was the place where IU attained its first 20-win season going 20-3 including a 9-0 mark at home. It was also the home to the 1953 NCAA National Champion "Hurryin Hoosiers" that went 20-4 overall and an unprecedented 11-0 in the Fieldhouse.
Indiana squads amassed an amazing 234-74 overall record in the Old Fieldhouse era. Besides the two national titles, it was the home of five Big Ten Conference Championships, 20 All-Americans, 17 All-Big Ten First Team selections and three Big Ten Most Valuable Players.

Today the Fieldhouse is named the Ora Wildemuth Intramural Center and it houses one of the most well-known facilities in the country. The HPER building's famed basketball courts are now residing where the tradition of Indiana University Basketball began.

NEW FIELDHOUSE

From 1960-71, Indiana played in what is known as today as Gladstein Fieldhouse, adjacent to Assembly Hall. Gladstein Fieldhouse was the fourth home of the Hoosiers

Although it was only expected to last a few seasons, it lasted 11 years. Over that time, Indiana had only two losing seasons and consistency was the name of the game for the Hoosiers.

The building still exists and it plays host to the Indiana University Indoor Track and Field squad and is utilized during graduation ceremonies. The facility has played host to four Men's Big Ten Indoor Track and Field Championships and three Women's Indoor Big Ten Championships. It is a building that is well-utilized throughout the athletic season.

The Hoosiers, under Branch McCracken for the first five years, went a combined 44-15 in those seasons. In the opening game at the Fieldhouse, Indiana defeated Butler 80-53 in front of 9,236 screaming Hoosier fans.

Players like Walt Bellamy, Tom and Dick Van Arsdale and Jimmy Rayl competed at the Fieldhouse. It was the home arena for five All-Americans, six All-Big Ten First Team selections, three Academic All-Americans and three Academic All-Big Ten selections.

The tradition of Indiana University Basketball was not altered in any way by the temporary move to the Fieldhouse, but the tradition began to escalate when the Hoosiers moved into Assembly Hall.

SIMON SKJODT ASSEMBLY HALL

The 2023-24 season marked the 52nd anniversary for the building that is the definition of tradition -- Assembly Hall. The Indiana Hoosiers have won over 82 percent of the games played at Branch McCracken Court. In 2016-17, the facility was renamed to Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall following a $40 million gift from Cindy Simon Skjodt for renovations to the facility.

The last unbeaten team in NCAA basketball, three NCAA Championships, and 11 Big Ten Conference championship-winning teams have graced Branch McCracken Memorial Court. It has been the home to seven perfect seasons including a 56-game winning streak from 1991-1995, and it is the home of the shot that gave Calbert Cheaney the title of Big Ten career scoring leader.

Assembly Hall has played host to the pre- and postseason National Invitational Tournament on six occasions and the 1981 NCAA Midwest Regional Championship won by the Isiah Thomas-led Indiana Hoosiers. The building was also the home arena of the 1984 Olympic gold medal-winning basketball team coached by Bob Knight.

The cavernous structure was completed in 1971 and is an impressive sight. It has 15,200 fully-cushioned, theatre-style seats located on concourse and upper balcony levels and another 2,057 can be seated in the bleachers located on all four sides at court level. The north and south loge areas give disabled fans an opportunity to have a pristine vantage point for Hoosier games.

The building has a suspension roof made up of 4,500 concrete slabs each six feet long, three inches thick and 30 inches wide. Each slab weighs 500 pounds giving the roof a total weight of 1,350 tons or 2,700,000 pounds. The building holds more than 30,000 yards of concrete, six million pounds of reinforcing steel and almost 1.5 million pounds of structural steel.

Assembly Hall has played host to memorable moments such as Kirk Haston's game-winning three-point shot to knock off No. 1 Michigan State, 59-58, which marked the first time in Assembly Hall history that the Hoosiers upset a No. 1 team at the Hall.

Another memorable victory over Michigan State was the backdrop for the Hoosiers' 400th victory in the facility. IU defeated the Spartans, 78-74, in overtime on Feb. 27, 2005.

During the 2005 summer months, a $1.99-million scoreboard-video board was installed in Assembly Hall. The state-of-the art scoreboard-video board includes four video screens, four video/scoring/statistics screens, one center-hung ProAd ring, five ProTable scorer's table units, four auxiliary portal scoreboards, as well as three-sided shot clocks and a new game timing system.

During the summers of 2010 and 2011, a new roof was installed on the structure. The tradition can be felt the instant you walk into Assembly Hall and if you have been there before you can hear Indiana, Our Indiana and Go IU! Fight! Fight! Fight! resonate off the walls and throughout the building long after you leave.

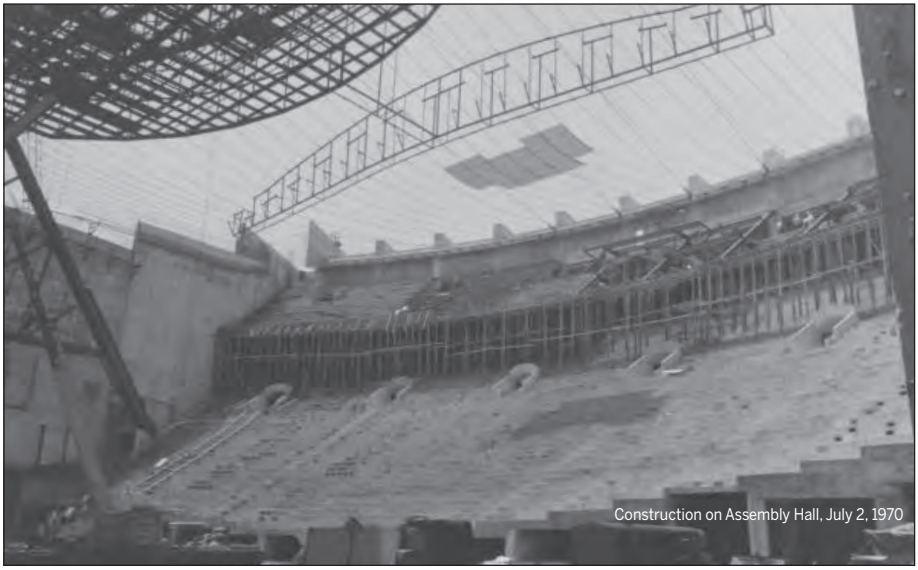
SIMON SKJODT ASSEMBLY HALL



Construction on Assembly Hall, July 2, 1970

From the 1971-72 Men's Basketball Media Guide:

Fabulous Assembly Hall, Indiana University's fifth basketball home in the past 70 years, has become the newest show piece in the I.U. Athletic complex.

Namewise, it will bring Indiana full-circle, since tiny Assembly Hall, a one-story frame building in the center of campus built in the late 1840's, was the original home of Hoosier teams – and, incidentally, the original site of the Indiana high school state tournament. From there basketball moved to the Men's Gymnasium in 1916, to the old I.U. Fieldhouse in 1927 and in 1960, to the new I.U. Fieldhouse.

The finished structure marks the culmination of nearly four years of construction work and over two decades of planning and research. Assembly Hall will be the only enclosed structure on the Bloomington campus that can come to handling the approximately 32,000 students who attend classes here.

The main arena is what Assembly Hall is all about and it will provide the ultimate in playing and spectator facilities. There are over 15,200 theatre-back cushioned chairs located on concourse and upper balcony levels on two sides. By using the pull-out bleacher seats on the ends, total basketball capacity will reach 16,666. An overhead grid of lighting will be supplemented by side-lighting for ideal television coverage.

A unique feature of the building is a concrete roof suspended by cables. It is composed of 4,500 concrete slabs measuring three by six feet. Each weighs 600 pounds, making the total weight of the roof alone a staggering 2,700,000 pounds. If you could put the whole building on scales, it would weigh in the neighborhood of 127 million pounds. It sets on limestone bedrock and required excavation of 60,500 cubic yards of earth and 12,000 yards of rock. Assembly Hall is an engineering and architectural marvel of which Hoosiers can well be proud. It completes one of the most ambitious construction programs ever under-taken by a major university athletic department.

The new plant is a half-mile north of the old location on the main campus. Assembly Hall, I.U. Fieldhouse, Memorial Stadium and 13,300 parking spaces are on a 160-acre tract; adjacent or nearby are Sembower Field, the varsity baseball park; four football practice fields; an 18-hole championship golf course, a par-3 layout and a driving range; an Olympic-size swimming pool; and a 10-lane all-weather Grasstex running track with field event facilities.

Basketball is not the only attraction destined for the building. The arena is adaptable to host anything from a "coat-and-tie" political convention to a formal theatrical production. The basketball court, which has been renamed the "McCracken Memorial Court" in honor of the deceased Hoosier basketball coach who won two NCAA titles during his 24 years of coaching, can be removed and a full 108 x 54-foot portable stage installed all in one day.

Indiana vs. Notre Dame, Dec. 18, 1971

SIMON SKJODT ASSEMBLY HALL

On October 14, 2016, Indiana University President Michael A. McRobbie presided over the dedication of Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall. The historic and venerable arena was renamed in honor of IU alumna Cindy Simon Skjodt, whose $40 million gift represents the largest gift in IU Athletics history. The renovation preserved the greatest home court advantage in college basketball while adding fan amenities and modern technology to the iconic venue.

COOK HALL

Thanks to a generous donation of $15 million to the "For The Glory of Old IU" campaign by the Cook Group, Indiana Basketball is able to call Cook Hall home for day-to-day operations. The late Bill Cook and his wife, Gayle, have been instrumental in a number of different projects at Indiana University and Cook Hall is no exception.
